

Dear ,

Thanks to your input and our staff's hard work, we're happy to announce our newest and our 33rd website, www.abortion.procon.org, which explores the pros and cons of whether or not abortion should be legal.

We've also posted research on other important controversial issues including local and state enforcement of federal immigration laws, Dr. Jack Kevorkian and physician aid in dying, the privatization of Social Security, and more.

1. NEW ProCon.org Website! Should abortion be legal?

Since the Jan. 22, 1973 US Supreme Court case Roe v. Wade through 2005, more than 45 million legal abortions have been performed in the United States. One out of five pregnancies end in abortion, and 40% of all women have an abortion by the age of 45. "Pro-life" proponents generally believe abortion is immoral because personhood begins at conception, and therefore abortion kills innocent human beings. "Pro-choice" advocates contend that a woman's right to control her pregnancy outweighs any right claimed for an embryo or fetus. ProCon.org's newest website explores the pros and cons in this debate.

2. Illegal Immigration: Should state or local governments enforce federal immigration laws?

Read pro and con arguments by Arizona Governor Janice Brewer, MALDEF President Thomas A. Sanz, police chief associations, US congressional representatives, advocacy groups, and others.

3. ProCon.org in the News

ProCon.org surpassed 200 mentions in the press for the first time in our history. We have been referenced in the media 35 times already in 2010, including articles by CNBC, the Guardian, and AOL News.

4. Euthanasia: Does Dr. Jack Kevorkian ethically serve the best interests of his patients?

Read what the American Medical Association (AMA), the American Ethical Union, university professors, political analysts, and even Kevorkian himself have to say about this question.

5. Social Security: Should Social Security be privatized?

Read pro and con arguments made by the AARP, Barack Obama, George W. Bush,

Ralph Nader, Mike Huckabee, economists, and others.
