

Dear reader,

We are thrilled to announce another new website this week, Gay Marriage ProCon.org, which explores the core question "Should gay marriage be legal?" This site has many interesting pros and cons and related information.

Our Health Care Reform website has been updated several times with new questions and pro-con responses.

Also, we would appreciate it if Wikipedia contributors helped improve the Wiki entry on ProCon.org.

1. NEW ProCon.org Website! Should gay marriage be legal?

Gay marriage is allowed in ten countries, five US states, and the District of Columbia. 30 states have constitutional amendments banning gay marriage. Proponents argue that same-sex couples should have access to the same marriage benefits enjoyed by heterosexual couples. Opponents argue that altering the traditional definition of marriage as between a man and a woman will further weaken a threatened institution. ProCon.org's 36th website explores the pros and cons of legalizing gay marriage.

2. Three new questions on Health Care Reform website:

- Can federal funds be used for abortion services?
- Will the cost to fund public health programs such as Medicare and Medicaid decrease
- Will physicians be required to accept all Medicare patients?

3. Wikipedia contributors - please help improve Wikipedia's ProCon.org entry

The entry for ProCon.org in Wikipedia needs updating and cleaning up. Wikipedia does not allow us to make these updates ourselves. Therefore, we need your help. If you are a Wikipedia contributor and know their rules and practices well, please help improve the ProCon.org entry.

4. Support ProCon.org by Shopping at Amazon.com

We've extended our special promotion with Amazon.com. Make any purchase from Amazon.com using this special link (or the button on our issue website homepages) and ProCon.org will receive at least 4% of the sale and you still pay the regular price.
