

Research Starters!

<http://www.procon.org/> - A website with sources for both sides of many arguments.

<http://www.npr.org/> - Check out the news or editorial sections for ideas. Or try searching Edmond

<http://www.tcc.edu/students/resources/writcent/HANDOUTS/writing/restopics.htm> - A nice list of questions/problems.

<http://library.sau.edu/bestinfo/Hot/hotindex.htm> - more possible topics.

<http://lib1.bmcc.cuny.edu/help/speech/spechttopics.html> - Yet even more topics.

<http://newsok.com/> -The News 9/Oklahoman's website.

<http://slate.com/> - a good online magazine.

<http://www.okgazette.com/p/12730/Default.aspx> - This local Oklahoma publication is mostly social, but they do have some editorial sections for you to browse through for ideas.

<http://edmondsun.com/> - Our town's newspaper. Same drill as above.

<http://www.einet.net/directory/11308/Issues.htm> - An internet directory of community-related topics.

http://wiki.idebate.org/index.php/Welcome to Debatepedia%21 – A resource for debaters and a good place to look for topics.

http://www.idebate.org/debatabase/topic_index.php - Another resource for debaters and a good place to look for topics.