1. How did you hear about ProCon.org?

Search engine (Google, Yahoo, Bing, etc.)

2. What grade level do you teach or serve?

Other (please specify) - TESOL - Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages

3. Have you referred students to ProCon.org or used ProCon.org in your instruction?

Yes

4. What's your school?

ProCon.org is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit public charity, and we are supported by foundations and individual donations. Having more and more schools use ProCon.org helps us show potential donors that our educational resources are increasingly popular and useful. Please help us by filling out the information below.

Oh, and don't worry. We won't mail you stuff or call you or share your info with anyone who might. We just want to know which schools have teachers and librarians that use ProCon.org.

My school: - Kaplan International Colleges

My name: - Alex M.

My title - teacher

My city: - Los Angeles

My state

(or country if not in the United States): - CA

5. Did your students find ProCon.org useful?

Yes

It helps them discuss issues more easily because they have both sides of the story

6. Do you think using ProCon.org helped to improve your students' critical thinking skills?

Yes

---

It's obvious, huh?

---

7. How do/did you use ProCon.org in your classroom or library? Details appreciated.

If you have a link to your lesson plan or reference to ProCon.org, please include it below.

My students are drilled in order to take the TOEFL examination, which is the standardized test foreigners need to take if they want to study at American colleges and universities. The speaking section of the test requires that the students speak for 60 seconds on a given subject. They have to read a passage and listen to a short lecture on the same subject. Then, they have to integrate the information and summarize the two and say how the passages relate. It's NOT easy at all, even for native speakers. Anyway, I found your site really great. Great job and great idea!

8. What subject(s) do you teach?

---

English

---

ESL - English as a Second Language

---

9. Would you recommend ProCon.org to teachers or librarians?

Yes

10. Would you like to sign up for our free email updates?

You'll get 1-3 emails per month highlighting our latest research, and you can unsubscribe anytime. Your email address will remain private, and we will not share it with or sell it to any third parties.

Yes, please.

11. Last one. Do you have any additional comments or suggestions for us?

Is it appropriate for a teacher to say, "You guys kick ass?"
