4. Have you referred students to ProCon.org or used ProCon.org in your instruction?

Yes

5. If you answered "yes" to #4 above, did your students find ProCon.org useful?

If you answered "no" to #4 above, then please skip this question.

Yes

It was an excellent source of both sides of the Health Care debate. ProCon.org provided equal arguments in both directions that then required the students to figure out their belief for themselves, all while being informed from both angles.

6. If you answered "yes" to #4 above, do you think using ProCon.org helped to improve your students' critical thinking skills?

If you answered "no" to #4 above, then please skip this question.

Yes

7. How do/did you use ProCon.org in your classroom or library (if at all)? Details appreciated.

If you have a link to your lesson plan or reference to ProCon.org, please include it below.

I like to bring up current issue whenever possible in the classroom. They are relevant and engaging. ProCon.Org is a great way to distribute the main ideas from two sides of an issue before discussion. At times I will divide the class into groups in which they are then to read (through Procon.org) one side of an issue. We then regroup and the students debate the issue. Some students may not even agree with the side they are debating for, but learn to use the information academically. Many powerful moments have occurred in the classroom due to this setup.

8. Would you recommend ProCon.org to teachers or librarians?

Yes

9. Where do you teach?

School - Orcas Island High School

City - Eastsound

State or Country - WA

Optional: Name and title - Corey Wlscumb - Teacher
