Monday, May 23, 2011 10:47:31 AM1. How did you hear about ProCon.org?

Search engine (Google, Yahoo, Bing, etc.)

2. What grade level do you teach or serve?

High School (9-12)

3. Have you referred students to ProCon.org or used ProCon.org in your instruction?

Yes

4. What's your school?

ProCon.org is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit public charity, and we are supported by foundations and individual donations. Having more and more schools use ProCon.org helps us show potential donors that our educational resources are increasingly popular and useful. Please help us by filling out the information below.

Oh, and don't worry. We won't mail you stuff or call you or share your info with anyone who might. We just want to know which schools have teachers and librarians that use ProCon.org.

My school: - Smith Vocational and Agricultural High School

My name: - J. Mailloux

My title - English Language Arts Instructor

My city: - Northampton

My state
(or country if not in the United States): - Massachusetts5. Did your students find ProCon.org useful?

Yes

Great resources and models of arguments, all in one spot

6. Do you think using ProCon.org helped to improve your students' critical thinking skills?

Yes

It pushed them beyond simple answers and blind belief

7. How do/did you use ProCon.org in your classroom or library? Details appreciated.

If you have a link to your lesson plan or reference to ProCon.org, please include it below.

I use it as the basis for persuasive essays and projects in a "writing for social change" unit. Rather than have students surfing all over, finding "facts" of questionable value, procon.org is a great place to start the discussion and begin framing the argument.

8. What subject(s) do you teach?

English

9. Would you recommend ProCon.org to teachers or librarians?

Yes

10. Would you like to sign up for our free email updates?

You'll get 1-3 emails per month highlighting our latest research, and you can unsubscribe anytime. Your email address will remain private, and we will not share it with or sell it to any third parties.

No, thanks. Not interested.

11. Last one. Do you have any additional comments or suggestions for us?
